

Tony Dick
Managing Director

Total Flower Exports is a major Australian supplier of fresh and dried Australian natives and protea flowers to national and international markets.

Since 1985, Total Flowers Exports has earned the reputation of selling a large variety of flowers of only the highest quality. Australian natives are procured from the abundantly resourced state of Western Australia, as well as Australia-wide. Before despatch, flowers undergo integrated precooling and quality control processing, treatment and packing to ensure end-delivery to customers is in the freshest state to meet all customer quarantine requirements.

Fresh flowers are despatched daily to worldwide destinations. Dried flowers are sent in sea containers packed either in natural or dyed, bleached or coloured form according to customer requirements. Preserved flowers, which are processed to enhance colour, form and soft pliable feel, are also available.

Total Flowers Exports' professional management team is led by Tony Dick and Cassie Erceg with enthusiastic attention given to both customers and growers. Prompt response to enquiries and communications via 24/7 email monitoring, phone or fax is assured. Weekly pricelists are available, as is an online image database at www.totalexports.com Worldwide markets are visited annually to ensure best possible service to international clients.

Total Flower Exports is a proud member and sponsor of The Flower Export Council of Australia Inc.

Total Flower Exports is totally committed to supplying all customers with Australian natives of only the highest quality.
